THE ARROWHEAD 1964

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS
OF
OLD FORT HIGH SCHOOL
OLD FORT, NORTH CAROLINA

EDITOR - Peggy Lackey
BUSINESS MANAGER - Stephen Greene
SPONSOR - Mrs. Helen W. Shiflet

IN DEDICATION . . .

For their years of service and devotion to the student of Old Fort High School, this 1964 Arrowhead is proudly dedicated to the teachers of the vocational department. Mrs. Glovier applies time, patience, and understanding to preparing girls for a useful and satisfying life in the many facets of homemaking. Mr. Anderson instructs rural young men in farm management, soil conservation, home beautification, carpentry, and electricity, among other projects.

The community, as well as the school, esteems them for their quiet manner, their competent ability, and their willingness to lend a hand, far beyond the call of duty.

FOREWORD

The Arrowhead Staff offers this 1964 yearbook with the expectation that you may enjoy many happy moments reminiscing. As you turn the pages of this book, may you re-live the events and associations connected with your year: books and classmates, trials and vexations, humor and tears.

We sincerely wish that your future may be a continuation of the happiness experienced while learning the fundamentals of life at Old Fort High School.

This Is Your Year

Old Fort has its share of beauty and brains as exemplified by those participating in the Free Enterprise parade.

In the Beginning . . SEPTEMBER

The eagerly awaited and sometimes dreaded opening days begin with noisy chaos in the halls. New friends, new faces, new teachers, and new classes add to the disorder. Work and fun begin, and everyone knows the year is in full swing.

Adding to honors earned by OFHS students, the land judging team of the vocational agriculture department won the district contest of the Mountain View Federation.

The fun of football begins with decorating goal posts for the weekly games.

The fun reaches a hilarious climax in the antics of the "Powder Puff" participants.

OCTOBER features Fall, Fun, and Football

NOVEMBER . . . preparation for SAT and PSAT . . .

A working knowledge of history aided those who participated in the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test. Here, studious juniors seek a better understanding of the political and cultural foundation of the nation.

and College Day

Seniors who realize the necessity of a college education receive an opportunity to ask puzzling questions of representatives from numerous colleges on College Day at Pleasant Gardens. The guidance coordinator for McDowell County Schools arranged this service to aid students in choosing a college and career to suit their needs.

DECEMBER . . . concentration on MACBETH in anticipation of research papers . . .

but tempered by thoughts of Christmas holidays

Winter, Work, and

Old Man Winter brings unexpected vacations to joyful students who seem oblivious to the fact that lost time must be made up on spring days.

Worry . . . JANUARY Exams, FEBRUARY Recovery

Study and diligence are rewarded, as Peggy Lackey can testify. She was chosen to receive the D.A.R. Good Citizen award, based on scholarship, leadership, loyalty, and patriotism.

Civics students lay problems before a panel of parents for frank and animated discussion. They conclude that good citizenship begins in the home.

MARCH Brings the Promise of Spring . . .

In its first year of organization, the school band has made giant strides toward becoming a first-class, performing musical group. Mr. Joseph DeNardo, director, deserves commendation for the success of these young musicians. To the P.T.A. goes credit for the very necessary financial backing.

. . . with APRIL showers . . . Band concerts . . .

The beginning of the End . . . MAY

Junior-Senior Banquet, graduation practice, that strange feeling of joy and nostalgia, and the excitement of those last days brought the year to a close. Each event was greeted by Seniors' cries that it is the last. Under-classmen realized that there would be other high school years, but each felt the sentimental feeling that there would never be another year such as this. Looking back brought memories of work, pleasure, friendship, and the realization that the year has passed with the speed of wonderful times, leaving lasting memories.

ADMINISTRATION

Administration

The operational success of Old Fort School has been largely due to the quiet, efficient management of the principal, P.W. Greer. In addition to his regular multitudinous duties, this year Mr. Greer is directing the faculty in compiling information and courses of study for re-accreditation by the State Department of Public Instruction. Once this is achieved, work will continue for accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Improvement of the quality of education on the local level is attributed to Mr. Greer's unceasing efforts on behalf of the students and community.

A man of grave responsibilities, Mr. James E. Johnson serves McDowell County as superintendent of public schools. Mr. Johnson supervises county-wide curriculum and physical facilities, and handles all administrative problems of the seven-school system.

Serving the school as secretary, Mrs. Margie Thomason is an asset to school management. The order and accuracy with which she keeps school records and carries on school correspondence has improved working conditions for the faculty and Mr. Greer.

Mrs. Leola Wright, supervisor, is charged with the responsibilities of the free exchange of ideas between teachers in the county. Mrs. Wright also observes county-wide methods of instruction and offers her advice and help.

ACTIVITIES

The scope of Homecoming activities ranged from streamers to the twist. The festive mood was equaled only by the festive occasion.

A smiling queen reigned over the Homecoming activities. Crowned at half-time she was again honored at the dance immediately following the game.

Homecoming

Chosen by an admiring team as the Homecoming Court were Virginia Burnette, senior; Judy Allison, junior; Sharon Hendley, queen; Libby Piercy, sophomore; and Jo Lytle, freshman.

For the first time at Old Fort the various clubs were represented in the Homecoming Court. They were Judy Crawford, Student Council; Linda Wilson, F.F.A.; Judy Jenkins, F.T.A.; and Linda Lytle, F.H.A.

Well pleased with Old Fort's final victory, happy students fill the night with a delightful mixture of fun, song, and dance.

Supplying the vocal and instrumental entertainment of the evening, the Sabres were a big success.

Court attendants were still a center of attraction at the dance. It was a big night for the girls as well as for the team and Old Fort's fans.

Brandishing two humorous stage props, Charlie Howery steps up to the microphone to weave a tale with riotous effects.

An elderly couple and a representative of an age gone by were prize winners in the annual costume judging.

Halloween Carnival

The Halloween Carnival, sponsored annually by the PTA, began with a dinner in the school cafeteria. The gym opened with booths for younger visitors. Later a well-presented stage show featuring local talent drew much approval from the packed house.

The Sabres, a local band, entertain both students and guests as they await the coming festivities.

Pearl Grant, as Minnie Pearl of the Grand Ole Opry, captivates the audience with her folksy humor.

Flaxen curls and awe-inspiring figure, "Jethrine" accompanies her Adonis-like husband, "Homer", in a duet, "Let Me Go, Blubber".

Serving as directors and members of the chorus, Lenore Padgham and Elenore White perform as the "Gold Dust Twins".

The display of talent resulted in an evening of rewarding entertainment and down-to-earth fun. The enthusiastic applause drawn from the audience compensated the cast for all the hours spent in diligent rehearsal.

A coveted position of honor for the elementary grades is the spot of Prince and Princess of the Carnival. This year the proud bearers of the title are Beverly Early and Mike Ramsey.

Those turning out for the Halloween supper were not disappointed in the delicious meal of ham and vegetables.

Representing the high school, Harvey Smith and Diane Smith reign over the festivities as King and Queen.

Student Council

In a diligent effort to improve faculty-student rapport, the Student Council held a joint meeting with teachers in which many helpful ideas were proffered.

Steve Wilson, serving as president, officiates at the meeting as an impartial moderator.

A "first" for high school students will be a handbook being compiled by the Student Council as one of its major projects this year. In-coming freshmen and new students will profit greatly from information contained in this booklet, which will be available to all students.

Hall traffic conditions have improved, and faster lunch service has been facilitated through efforts of the Student Council.

Under the capable leadership of Mrs. Taylor, the Council serves as liaison between the student body and the administration, all working toward improvement of educational opportunities in the community.

Student Council, the Image of Leadership

Carrying the responsibility of leadership are Steve Wilson, president; John McEntire, vice-president; Sarah Effler, secretary; Jean Mason, treasurer; Judy Crawford, reporter; and Mrs. Taylor, sponsor.

Beta Club

For its major project, the Beta Club has decided to donate $50 to the Good Neighbor's Scholarship at Montreat-Anderson College. Sponsored by local businessmen, the full-tuition scholarship is awarded to a local senior who meets the scholastic requirements set up by the scholarship board.

The Christmas spirit, caroling, and good food helped to make the Beta party a memorable one.

Mrs. Shiflet, Beta sponsor, discusses plans for the Beta project with Virginia Burnette, president; Rita Silver, secretary-treasurer; Sandra Knupp, vice-president; Anita Allison, reporter.

Serving the club in the capacity of leadership are the following: SEATED: Peggy Lackey, president; Mrs. Marston, sponsor; Joan Mason, vice-president. STANDING: Mary Ann Walker, librarian; Elaine Robertson, parliamentarian; Cheryl Davis, song leader; Sandra Smith, secretary; Judy Allison, historian; Judy Jenkins, treasurer; and Sandra Knupp, reporter.

Each year the F.T.A. awards a scholarship to a senior student wishing to enter the teaching profession. The recipient of the current award is Nancy Smith, now enrolled as a freshman at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Future Teachers of America

F.H.A.

These members will be well prepared to face the responsibilities which they will have to assume as homemakers of the future. FIRST ROW: Mrs. Glover, sponsor, Judy Jenkins, Anita Allison, Frances Pittman, Jeanette Lewis, Barbara Plemmons, Kathy Jones, Frances Lytle, Sandra Knupp, Bonnie Harris. SECOND ROW: Sue Davis, Sharon Johnson, Jewell Effler, Catherine Robinson, Sandra Smith, Jane Nichols, Linda Lytle, Pat Grindstaff, Libby Piercy, Peggy Lackey. THIRD ROW: Mickie Ann Johnson, Gail McGinnis, Cheryl Davis, Sharon Hendley, Linda Wilson, Mary Ann Walker, Elaine Robertson, Linda Caplan, Pat Elliott, Helen Cosgrove. FOURTH ROW: Joan Caplan, Pat Elliott, Helen Cosgrove. FIFTH ROW: Joan Gillispie, Linda Morris, Sharon Barry, Jo Lytle, Kaye Arney, Brenda Whittington, Brenda Bartlett, Kaye Allison, Gayle Stevens, Cynthia Tilson. SIXTH ROW: Opal Grant, Joan Mason, Jean Mason, Gail Baker, Margaret Smith, Janice Evans, Carol Allison, Vivian Simmons.

Preparation and distribution of fruit baskets to the sick and needy personify the Christmas spirit for F.H.A. members.

Guiding the club toward the achievement of its goals are Sandra Knupp, historian; Joan Mason, president; Cheryl Davis, songleader; Sharon Hendley, reporter; Judy Jenkins, secretary; Vivian Simmons, parliamentarian; Anita Allison, treasurer; Mrs. Sue Glovier, sponsor.

Preparing to eat their lunch, several members relax after the morning session of the F.H.A. District Rally at Mars Hill College.

F.F.A.

Through the development of agriculture leadership, cooperation and citizenship, the Future Farmers of America strive to strengthen the confidence of farm boys and young men in themselves and their work.

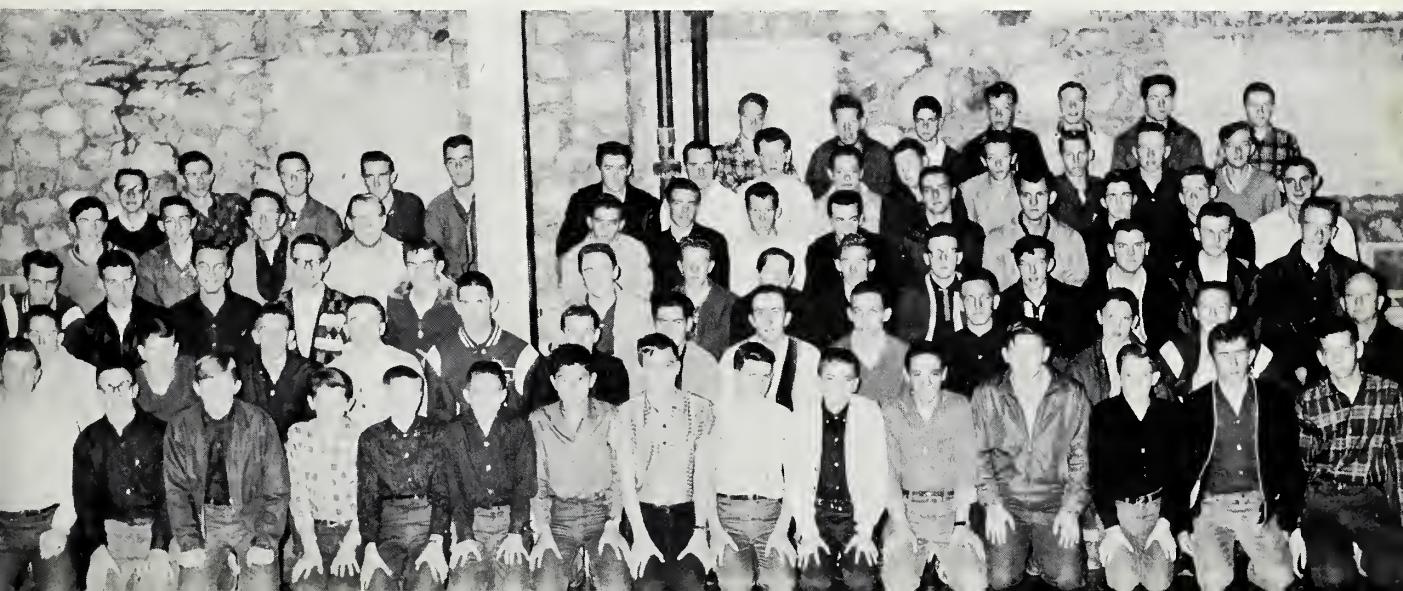

Meeting the high standards of leadership set by the club are the officers: Franklin Effler, president; Max Gilliam, vice-president; Mr. Anderson, sponsor. SECOND ROW: Coy Davis, secretary; Steve Wilson, reporter. THIRD ROW: Steve Allison, sentinel, and Roger Johnson, treasurer.

The zany costumes donned by new F.F.A. members on initiation day provided a good laugh for everyone.

A productive interest in agriculture prompted an ever larger group to join F.F.A. this year. FIRST ROW: Leslie Grooms, Ronnie Gillespie, Ronald Painter, Jimmy Russell, Wade Walker, Charles Renfro, Roy Walker, Dale Gilliam, Wayne Monroe, Douglas Grindstaff, Ronald Parker, Ray Grooms, Steve Effler, Ronnie Johnson, Donnie Elliott. SECOND ROW: Albert Bailey, Gary Lavender, Franklin Effler, Max Gilliam, Larry Moore, Ray Allison, Johnny Allison, Rodger Davis, Steve Wilson, Alvin McGinnis, Jack Stevens, Roger Johnson, Mr. Anderson. THIRD ROW: Randy Lowery, Guy McGinnis, Marlin Allison, Coy Davis, Ronnie Vess, Ervin Allison, Avery Lawson, Sammy Harris, Danny Vess, Lloyd Lytle, Sam Freeman, Ray Grindstaff, Philip Sigmon, Tony Silvers. FOURTH ROW: Arnold Vess, Everett Davis, Douglas Davis, Benny Harris, David Vess, John Hampton, Harold Crisp, Wade Revis, Garvin Davis, Harold Reed, Dennis Lowery, Fred Burgin, Glenn Grindstaf. FIFTH ROW: Gary Spurlin, Kenneth Burleson, Hugh Revis, Leroy Davis, Steve Allison, Jerry Johnson, Billy Medford, Larry Smith, Bobby Suttlemyre, Bobby Brown, Charles Rector, Alvin Grogan, Dewey Croom, Carroll Ricker. SIXTH ROW: Carroll Hall, Bruce McGinnis, Daniel Effler, Don Coates, Donald Warcup, Larry Walker, Vernon Davis.

Arrowhead Staff

The Arrowhead wins again! Delegates to the Editors Roundtable at Western Carolina College were elated to claim a second trophy for first place in Division III. Members of the staff attend this workshop each year to learn how to produce better yearbooks, and for OFHS results have been most rewarding. In a planning session at the left are Peggy Lackey, editor; Sandra Knupp, assistant editor; Mrs. Shiflet, sponsor; Rita Silver, junior editor; Anita Allison, editorial staff; Toni Teague, junior editor; and Judy Jenkins, editorial staff.

Typing copy accurately is the task of staff typists Diane Smith and Louise McKinney.

The job of selling annuals falls to the circulation staff who sold more copies this year than ever before. This energetic crew consists of Sandra Dunham, Sherry Hendley, Harvey Smith. STANDING: Carl Sutton and Jerry Piercy.

A very successful advertising staff set a record for the amount of ads sold, thus assuring the publication of another superior annual. The "super-salesman" are, STANDING: Judith Jenkins, Robert Smith, Jerry Lewis, Diane Smith, Sarah Effler. SEATED: Peggy Lackey, Sandra Knupp, Teresa Brown, Charles Stirewalt, Stephen Greene.

The Teepee Journal

The school newspaper, THE TEEPEE JOURNAL, is published every six weeks, two issues each assigned to the senior, junior, and sophomore classes. Gathering the news and transferring it to readable news and feature articles are journalistic endeavors of the various English classes. The mechanics of typing and cutting stencils falls to the second-year typing class. The result is a commendable, mimeographed school paper which keeps students informed of school happenings and also serves as a public relations instrument of the school.

Bus Drivers

Office Workers

Answering the telephone, making absence lists, and running errands are a few of the duties performed by the office workers. Doing these jobs daily are, FIRST ROW: Pat Grindstaff, Sharon Johnson, Judith Jenkins, Bonnie Harris, Elaine Sutton; SECOND ROW: Marilyn Dalton, Diane Smith, Anita Allison, Linda Burgin; THIRD ROW: Pat Connor, Helen Cosgrove, Peggy Lackey, Frances Lytle.

Library Aides Club

The Library Aides Club has been organized this year to offer more library service to students and teachers. Members work at the circulation desk in the high school library, checking books in and out, processing and shelving new books, mending other books, and changing bulletin boards twice monthly. After receiving instruction, they will be available as audio-visual projectionists.

Many members act as aides in the elementary library, where their duties include story-telling, shelving books for the lower grades, processing new books, mending old ones, typing, and helping change three bulletin boards.

Mrs. Clapp serves both libraries this year, dividing her time between the high school and elementary buildings.

Lunchroom Workers

Maintaining an attractive cafeteria as well as preparing and serving healthful meals falls to an efficient lunchroom staff. Taking a minute out of a busy day are Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Harmon, Mrs. White, Mrs. Gillespie, Mrs. Bartlett, and Mrs. Helen Harmon, manager.

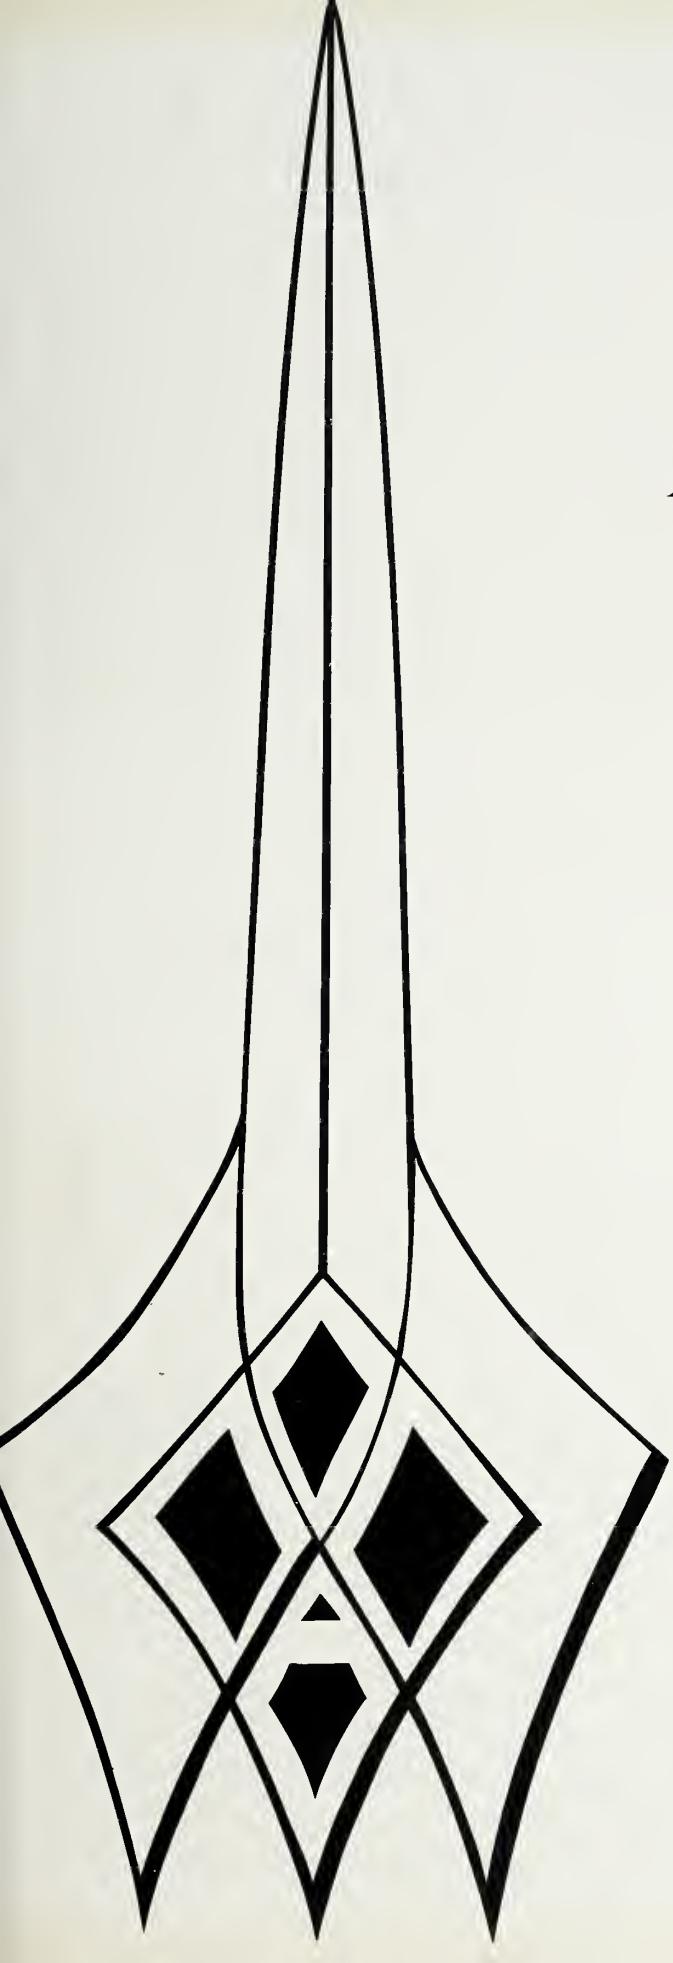

Custodians

Clean and attractive buildings are conducive to encouraging good study habits. Mrs. Hipps and Mrs. Duncan undertake the enormous task of keeping buildings pleasant for students and visitors.

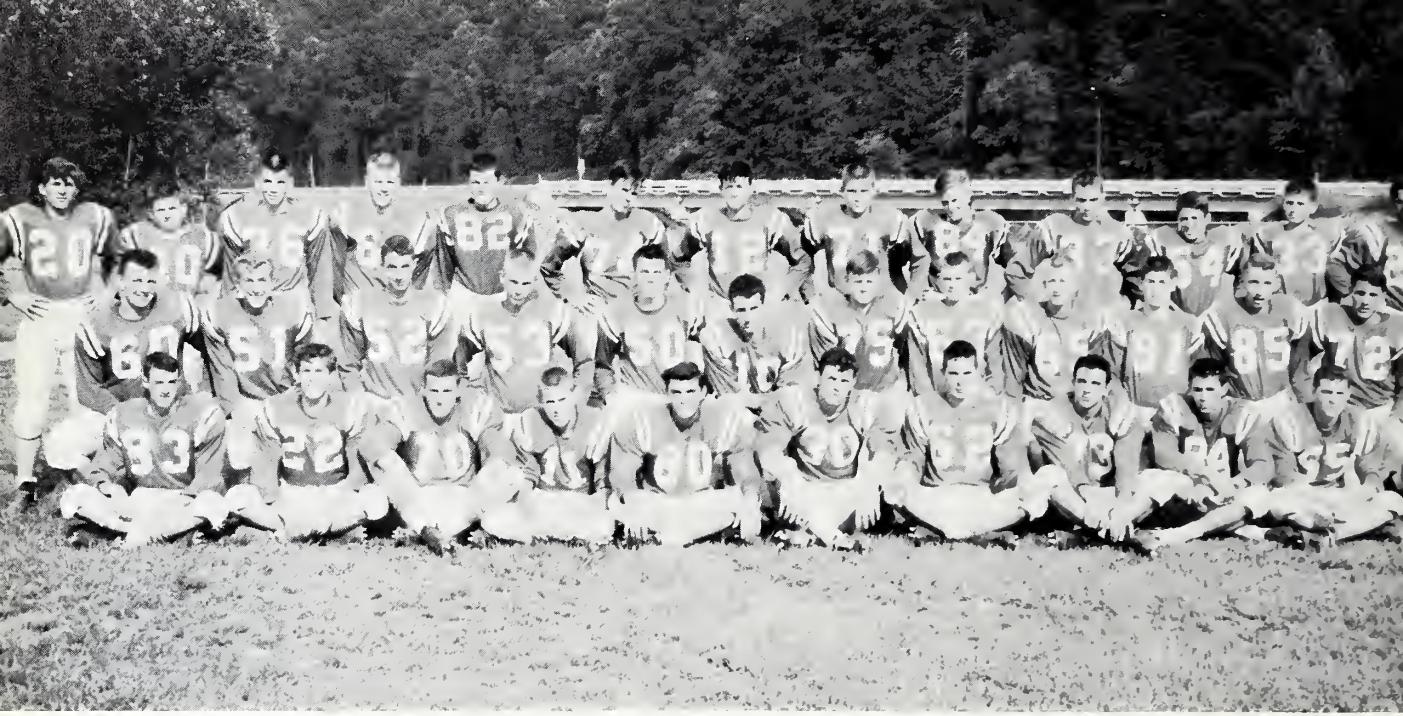

Responsible for general upkeep and varied odd jobs, Mr. Charles Rumfelt, has proven himself an asset to the school maintenance.

ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL

Going through the pre-game rituals, Old Fort players loosen their muscles with strenuous exercises.

A sprightly Redskin has the ball carrier in his hands as teammates close in from the back. It's teamwork like this that wins games.

Redskins plagued by injuries

The outlook for the season was bright when Old Fort took the field against Bakersville. As the first game proceeded, the Redskins scored twice for an 14-0 victory. After this glory, the road was downhill. Many of the key players were eliminated due to injuries. Many first string players were disabled, leaving inexperienced sophomores to call the plays for Old Fort. Yet, the Redskins put up a good fight and demanded the admiration of fans and coaches. The second victory for the Redskins came in the last game of the season, the Homecoming game against Spruce Pine.

Returning next year the boys who received experience and practice expect to carry their team to the top rung of the ladder. Coaches, students, and fans anticipate a big year for Old Fort on the gridiron.

Terry Hendley, bright, young Junior, honored his team with many feats of strength and cunning. Most of all, however, he won the glory of being named All-Conference guard.

Girls' Basketball

The Old Fort Maidens opened the 1964 season as defending McDowell County Champions. Getting off to a slow start, the girls showed improvement as the season progressed, ending with a 10-9 record. They took third place in the Skyline Conference, after holding the number one spot for four consecutive years.

Although the Maidens did not produce a championship season, each game was an unforgettable experience. Each victory a reward, each defeat a heartbreak, each teammate a link in a chain which bound the girls to their team and school.

Leading the Maidens through victory and defeat, co-captains Gloria Turner and Peggy Lackey discuss strategy with Coach Ken Griffin. Backing the team is a creditable reputation and a desire to live up to the expectation of ardent supporters.

Willing to practice long, hard hours and to give devoted service to their coach, team, and school are the Old Fort Maidens, SITTING: Judy Davis, Sherry Hendley, Bonnie Harris, manager, Judy Crawford, Theresa Early. STANDING: Rita Silver, Gloria Turner, Shirley Hartwell, Margaret Creasman, Peggy Lackey, Sheila Hippis, Catherine Robinson, Libby Piercy, Mickie Ann Johnson, Shirley Jenkins, Judy Harris, and Linda Lytle.

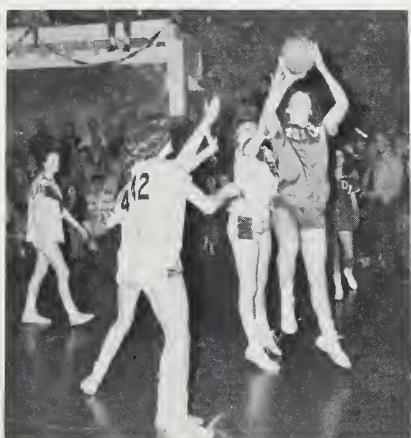

Striving to gain the ball for Old Fort, Verna McEntire jumps with an agile opponent and tips the ball toward a waiting teammate.

Poised at the free throw line Sherry Hendley takes a deep breath before tossing the ball for a possible score.

Maidens in Action

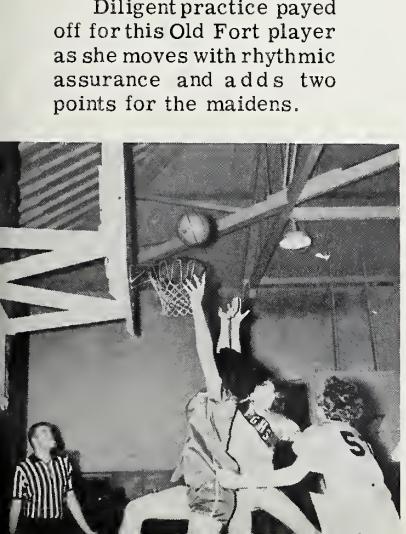

Driving under the basket Libby Piercy avoids a block by a tip-toeing opponent and "the score goes up another notch."

Struggling for possession of the ball opponents push, tug, and all but come to blows as the ball bounces from the rim back to the playing floor.

Crowds watch the progress of the ball toward the basket as Libby Piercy towers far above an opposing guard.

Diligent practice paid off for this Old Fort player as she moves with rhythmic assurance and adds two points for the maidens.

Determined not to lose possession of the ball, rover Verna McEntire weaves away from an equally determined guard in an attempt to toss the ball to a free teammate.

Boys' Basketball

Old Fort sportsmanship breeds champions. Two nights a week, every week from December to March, Old Fort students gather somewhere and join in the chorus, "We're from Old Fort, couldn't be prouder. If you can't hear us, we'll yell a little louder." Hearing this call to arms, the Redskins rush onto the basketball court with the battle cry, "We'll win tonight!" Maybe not all games are won, but the fighting spirit is there. This spirit carries the team through triumphs and downfalls, onward to the tournament. Then the tournament brings championships and a new trophy for the collection.

With a background of trophies from past glories, the top strategists leading Old Fort in the footsteps of former champions are Coach Ken Griffin and Captain Jerry McFalls.

Through years of training, Old Fort turns out spirited and experienced teams to represent the school on basketball courts throughout the county and elsewhere. This year the ambassadors are, left to right: Johnny Oates, Johnny Walker, Billy Craig, Billy Lytle, Wayne McCauley, Jimmy Willis, Mickey Arney, Chuck Melton, Ralph Willis, Danny Willis, David Rhinehardt, Jerry McFalls, Billy Snyder, and manager, Roger Souther.

All eyes are on the ball as Mickey Arney pauses that fraction of a second before making a toss through the net for another two points.

Poised to lunge for the rebound, players rally at one end of the court as suspense draws spectators to the edge of their seats.

Packed to standing-room-only capacity, the gym shakes with cheers as rival teams, Old Fort and Pleasant Gardens, race for the winning score in the last few minutes of playing time.

Old Fort in Action

Jimmy Willis and opponent leap, arms outstretched, toward the goal to aid their team's cause.

An Old Fort shot is knocked away from the goal by a teammate in a moment of suspense.

Shooting one of his accurate jump shots from almost mid-court, Danny Willis foils an opponent who tries to block his shot.

Track

Track has been an up-and-coming sport at Old Fort in recent years. Under the experienced eye of Coach Jim Washburn the track boys have practiced ardently and won many honors for the school. Representing Old Fort High at the track meets are, SECOND ROW: Roger Johnson, Steve Wilson, Tony Baker, Jerry Moore, Ray Allison, Billy Morrow; FRONT ROW: Rhonda Lewis, Larry Camp, Johnny Allison, Terry Hendley, and Richard Johnson.

First baseman Jimmy Willis tags out a dust-choked opponent as he slides across first base.

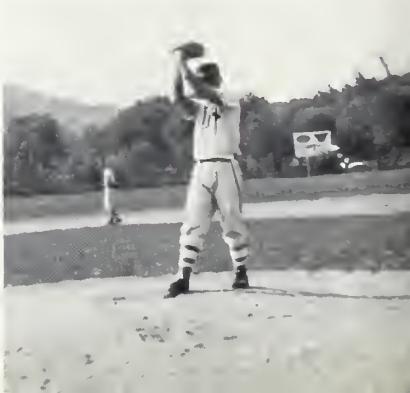

Waiting for a turn at bat Old Fort players watch intently as a teammate steps into the batter's box.

Baseball

A good defensive team is built around a good pitcher. Jerry McFalls displays his skill on the mound.

Alert and waiting for a fast ball or curve, Larry Sutton grips the bat as the fans look on.

The many turns, dips, and jumps that accompany cheers require much practice to develop the exact timing of expert precisionists. The cheerleaders practice on the front lawn of the school in heat, cold, or dampness.

"We've got the coach, we've got the team We've got the pep, we've got the steam" . . .

Braving the cold of football season and the tension of the basketball courts to lead loyal fans in boisterous cheers are Pat Grindstaff, Kaye Arney, Barbara Plemmons, Judy Jenkins, Frances Lytle, chief, Jo Lytle, Linda Wilson, Sharon Hendley, and Sharon Berry.

J.V.'s realize the rigors of basketball

Holding the ball on his fingertips, an Old Fort aspiring star leaps to score a field goal.

Snatching a rebound from the eager hands of an opponent, an agile J.V. forward starts for a better shooting position at center court.

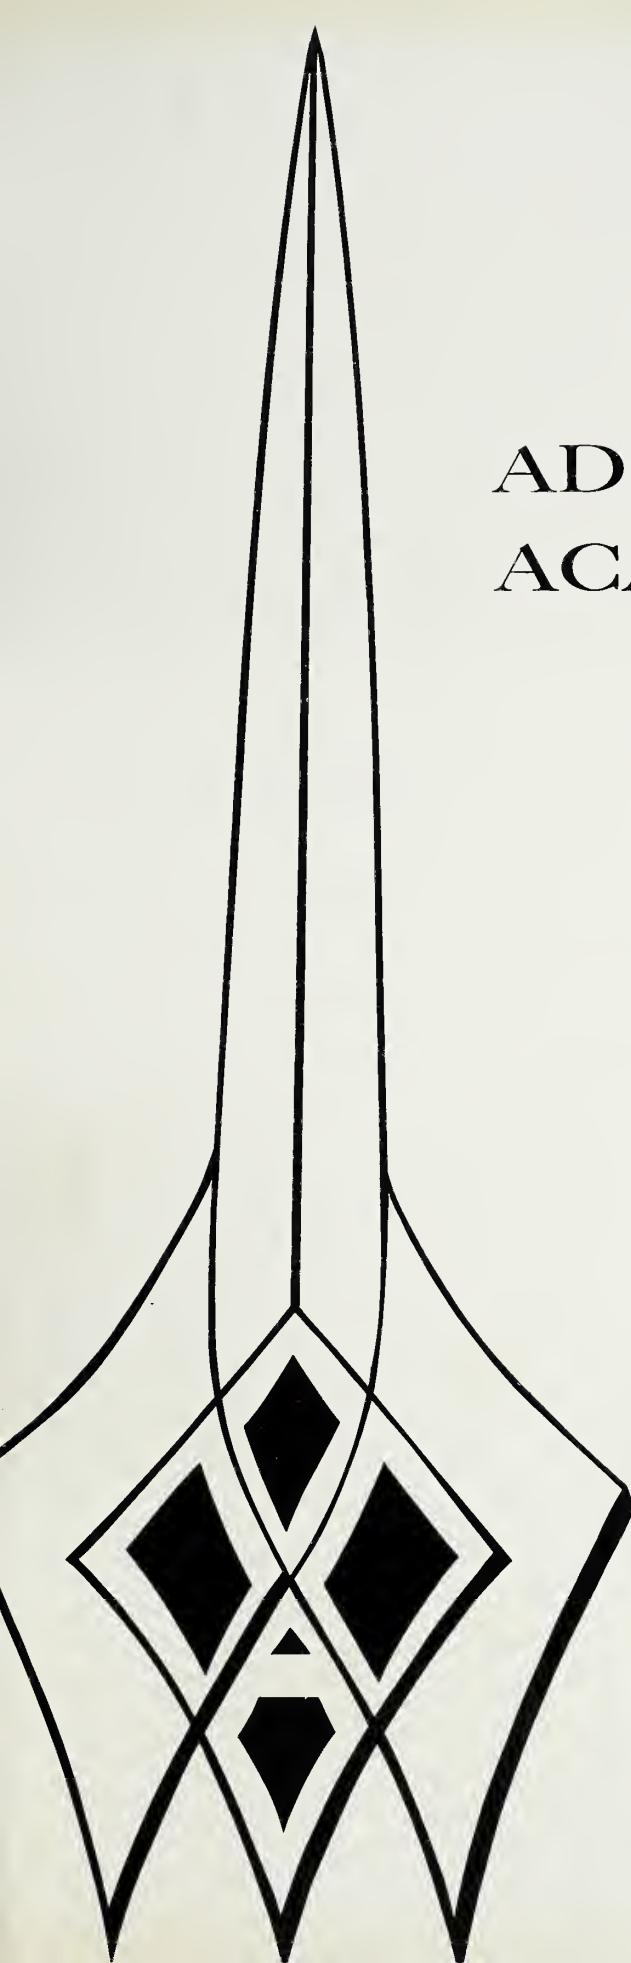

Junior Varsity

An Old Fort player futilely attempts to block a shot by an opponent.

Seniors

CLASS OFFICERS

Jim Melton, president; Jerry McFalls, treasurer; Sarah Effler, secretary; Diane Smith, vice-president, and Shirley Allison, reporter, lead the senior class activities.

Chosen for senior mascots are Rebecca Davis and John Wilson.

Ravenous seniors lead the way to the lunchroom.

Looking forward to that final day, seniors are measured for caps and gowns.

Sponsors, Mr. Hornaday and Mrs. Shiflet, study the calendar in preparation for coming events.

Placing orders for invitations also brings the event nearer.

Friendliest seniors, Franklin Effler and Sandra Dunham, display their well-developed sense of humor.
